LOCATIONS OF BIRTHS IN THE INDEX

Most of the sites of birth listed in this Index are counties. Occasionally, a specific city or community is named as the site of birth when known. In the case of some large cities, such as Atlanta, Tampa, Birmingham, Jacksonville or Miami, etc., are listed rather than the county if they were born within the city.

A list of the counties and cities are given on the following page, showing the states they are located in.

The boundaries of counties have changed considerably in some states over the last 200 years. In the case of Lee County, South Carolina, for instance, this county was not created until the early 1900's. Prior to then, it was part of Darlington County and Sumter County. The area where the Woodhams first settled, in modern Stokes Bridge Community of Lee County, was then on the north side of Lynches River (or Creek) and a part of Darlington County.

In another area of many births, Houston County, Alabama, this county was not formed until about 1903, mostly from Henry County and a much smaller area of Dale County.

In this Index, most births in such areas where newer counties have been formed, the site of births for persons born prior to 1900 are listed in the original county, Darlington rather than Lee or Henry rather than Houston, for instance.

When the place of birth is unknown but the person is known to have lived in a particular area, that site is given in parentheses (Dothan). In the case of very little information on a person (such as "He married a girl named Betty from Florida."), only the state is given.

In less frequent sites, the name of the city is generally named, rather than the county. When looking for birth or death certificates on relatives in the various state bureaus of vital statistics, these vital records will always be listed by the county of birth, rather than a city. This is another reason for listing our births by county.

INTRODUCTION

This Index is a result of more than 30 years of research on the Woodham family. It is based on thousands of sources of information, including census, birth, death, cemetery, military, Bible and other records, newspaper articles as well as personal interviews, correspondence and telephone interviews.

No other index of this kind is known--on any family. The Index is unique in that it not only provides a list of all known Woodhams but also genealogical information on them as well. The Index contains the names of well over 4,500 Woodhams--all descended from the same person. It also includes nicknames and is cross-referenced for a total number of listings of over 7,000.

It is by no means complete yet it has accomplished its most important goal. This was originally to learn something about every Woodham born prior to 1900. This goal proved so successful that I later added information on every descendant born after 1900 that I could locate.

Several thousands of hours have been spent in research on census records alone. Additional thousands of hours have been spent going through cemeteries, often in the middle of the night while on road trips, courthouse records, old newspapers in courthouse basements and libraries and state archives in every Southern state from Maryland to Mississippi.

I have tried to be as accurate as possible with the information available to me. Due to a lack of education, especially in pioneer days and in rural areas lasting through World War II, many people were not capable of keeping or making written records. Nor were dates important to them. As a result, we can find more than one birthdate for many people, simply because they did not know when they were born. In some cases, I have listed two years due to a conflict in records.

Unfortunately, many Woodhams have failed to cooperate with our effort to obtain information on all our family. Fewer than one-tenth of our living relatives have bothered to answer letters or requests for information. This sad affair has meant many relatives are not listed in our Family Index. Almost every family has a family Bible yet less than two dozen families have ever sent in copies of their family Bible records.

There are still many gaps. Perhaps some day most of these will be filled in to create a better picture of a whole family. The job is not finished. Our work will continue and after us, we hope the next generation will pick up where we finish.

My thanks and eternal appreciation go to those who have urged me to publish this Index so that its valuable contents might be preserved and made available to share with all our Family.

This publication is a non-profit project. All proceeds will be used by the Woodham Family Club of America to purchase additional historical documents and records on our Family and for operation of the club.

This book is dedicated to my father, Rufus Woodham, who gave his life in defense of his country.

ROBERT EARL WOODHAM

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Robert Earl Woodham was born in Seminole County, Georgia on 24 Sept., 1939, son of Rufus Woodham and Norma Ruth Turnage.

Robert Earl attended West Georgia College, Carrollton, Georgia, for three years, Georgia State University, Atlanta, one year and Woodrow Wilson College of Law one year.

He wrote his first newspaper article while in the seventh grade and continued through high school, reporting school activities for papers in Donalsonville and Bainbridge. At West Georgia, he became news editor and later editor of the college newspaper. While still in college, he began his professional writing career with a full-time job as reporter for the "Atlanta Journal".

His writing brought a job offer as City Editor for the "Cordele Daily Dispatch". He also worked as City Editor of the Thomasville "Times Enterprise"; Southwest Georgia correspondent for the "Albany Herald", Jacksonville "Florida Times-Union" and United Press International and consultant for the Southwest Georgia Planning and Development Commission (all at the same time); Information Director for the Georgia State Planning Bureau; Assistant Editor of "Industrial Development" and "Travel Investment" magazines; and Assistant Editor of "The Independent Sentinel", an Atlanta suburban newspaper.

Robert Earl founded the South Georgia Caverns Development Association in 1967, composed of city and county government officials and civic club leaders in Southwest Georgia in an effort to develop a non-profit public park as a major tourist attraction. At his own expense, he prepared a feasibility and development plan for the park in the hope of preserving several caverns and waterfalls and bringing new economic development to the region.

He also prepared at his own expense, a feasibility study for a state junior college at Bainbridge in response to a request from a state representative. He devoted a great deal of effort for several years to establishment of this college.

Robert Earl also promoted tourist development in his region as a member of the Thomasville, Ga. Rose Festival Committee and founded and organized the National Inland Port Festival at Bainbridge to boost industrial growth and tourist development.

Robert Earl began his hobby of family research at age 12. He was orphaned when his father Rufus was killed in action in World War II. He has continued his family studies during his spare time and now has more than 30 years experience as a researcher. His collection of thousands of records and documents has become the Woodham Family National Library.

He founded the Woodham Family Association in 1979 and the Woodham National Reunion as an annual event that year. He also founded "The Woodham Family Journal", a family newsletter, and wrote a booklet as an introduction to the history of the family. He continues to devote up to 60 hours a week to his hobby as an unpaid volunteer.

Robert Earl founded a non-profit foundation in 1981 and envisions establishment of a national library and research center of American family history some day. He intends to devote the remainder of his life to this goal. His Woodham collection and a large collection on his mother's family will become a part of that library.

HOW TO USE THIS INDEX

With this Index, any member of the Woodham Family with origins in the South may trace their direct ancestry back to Thomas Woodham (I), the Founding Father of this large Southern family, established by him when he came from England to America about 1655 or earlier. It does not include Woodhams of several northern branches of our family who migrated from England at much later times.

To use this Index to trace your ancestry, start with your own name, if listed, or any other Woodham. Then you can look up the names of parents, grandparents and so forth. The name of the person's father or mother is listed to the side; then look up that person's name to learn their father's name and thereon for each generation successively on back in time until you reach Thomas (I).

The information is listed in this order: (1) full name, (2) nickname or most commonly used name (in parenthesis), (3) maiden name of wives underlined; (Smith) a wife's name in lower case letters and in parenthesis indicates a previous married name and maiden name unknown, (4) year born (an incomplete date, such as 188, means the person was probably born in the 1880's but exact date is unknown), (5) where born (usually the county is listed; in cases where a city is listed in parenthesis, the person's birthplace is unknown but they are known to have lived in that city) and (6) the name of their father, husband (indicated by "hus") or mother.

EXAMPLE:

(1)	(2) & (3)	(4)	(5)	(6)
NAME	MAIDEN NAME ("NICKNAME")	WHEN BORN	WHERE BORN	FATHER'S OR HUSBAND'S NAME
Aris	Senior ^{OR}	1764	Dobbs Co. NC	Edward Junior
Rachel	RICHARDSON	1770	Dobbs Co. NC	hus Aris Sr.
James Edward		1881	Dale	John Edward (JR)54

Thus, by looking up the name of Aris Woodham Senior, we learn he was born in 1764 in Dobbs County, North Carolina and was the son of Edward Woodham Junior. Then we look up Edward Jr. to find out who his father was. Under Rachel, we learn her maiden name was Richardson and she was the wife of Aris Sr.

Since many members of our Family have the same or similar names, additional identification has been added by some parent's names. The initials and dates are the initials of that person's father and the year that person was born. For instance John Edward (JR)54 means that John Edward's father's initials are JR and that John Edward was born in 1854. This will help separate the many John Edward's and lets you know to look for a particular one.

Names in parenthesis are what that person was usually known by. Sometimes this is a middle name. In the case of nicknames, they are listed in quotation marks ("Jim"). If you do not find a person listed by the name you know them as, check all the cross references under other names: i.e., for "Woody" check all the proper names listed; for Edward, see all the names listed, such as James Edward.
