FAMILY PHOTO ALBUM

VOLUME ONE

INTRODUCTION

he publication of this photo album is the result of many years of effort on the part of Robert Earl Woodham to gather and preserve pictures of the Woodham family. This effort to preserve our family pictures has a very personal meaning to Robert Earl. The old homestead of his grandparents burned about 1967 and all the family pictures in the home were destroyed.

In the years since, Robert Earl has discovered many other families who have also lost their treasured family photos. While many pictures have been destroyed, large numbers of others have become "lost" to our family for various reasons. Often, only one copy of a picture exists. Three or four generations after that person dies, the picture has been handed down to people who no longer know the identity of the photo. Unfortunately, some pictures are simply discarded because of this.

Robert Earl set out to try and gather and preserve a photo of every member of the Woodham family that he could obtain. His collection is now a part of the Woodham National Library. We hope Woodham relatives will continue to donate copies of their family pictures for us to preserve for future generations.

This album is the first of what we hope will become a continuing program to print an annual photo album on the Woodham family. We propose to print and release a new volume of these photo albums every year at the annual Woodham National Reunion, held on Memorial Day weekend.

The publication of this album is a non-profit project of the Woodham Family Club of America. All proceeds from sale of the album will be used by the Club to pay for printing costs of the album and other Club programs.

We wish to thank the dozens of relatives who have contributed pictures to the Woodham National Library to preserve for future generations and to those who have loaned their photos temporarily.

RUFUS WOODHAM

Rufus Woodham was born 29 Jan., 1920 in Dale County near Newville, Alabama. He was the son of John Wesley Woodham and Lillie Mae Sanders and grandson of Ira Edward Woodham and Millie Ann Enfinger.

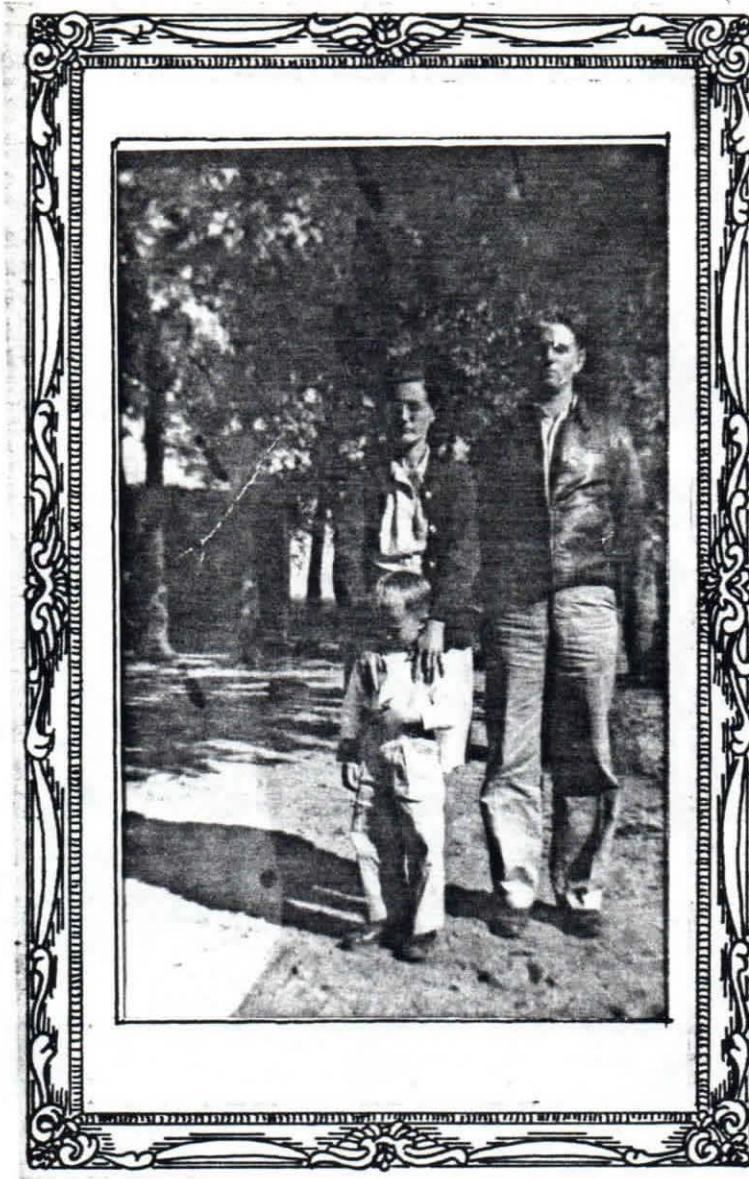

At the age of five, his family moved to Seminole County, Georgia and bought a farm about four miles northeast of Iron City in the Red Hill Community. Rufus grew up on the family farm and following the ancient Woodham tradition, became a farmer himself. When his farm chores were completed during the hot South Georgia summers, Rufus would don his swim suit, take a towel and bar of soap and trot or jog several miles to a sandbar on Spring Creek. He built ladders to the tops of trees for diving.

Rufus married Norma Turnage on 5 Nov., 1938 in Seminole County. They lived on his father's farm for several years until Rufus bought a farm in Miller County. Here Rufus and Norma raised corn, cotton and later started a large poultry operation, with several thousand chickens.

Rufus and Norma hosted many Saturday night square dances at their home where neighbors and friends from three counties often gathered.

Rufus entered the United States Army in early 1944. He received basic training at Camp Blanding, southwest of Jacksonville, Florida. His wife and young son Robert Earl took a small apartment in Jacksonville to be near him. They made regular bus trips to the Army base for visits.

He was later transferred to Fort Meade, Maryland and in the late summer his unit was shipped to Italy. He was killed in action shortly after the invasion of Anzio. His body was never identified after being struck by a shell and the site of his burial is unknown.
