Lee's Southern Families

Compiled by Lenora C. Heise

- I am a descendant of some of the families found within this research. I have compiled my research and others, and have made available the results at this site. You may use the results of this research for the purpose of genealogy only. I only ask that you contact me and provide to me any corrections, additions, or updates that you possess so that I can include it in my "hard copy/printed report", and that you include me as a source at least once (i.e. "Compiled by Lenora C. Heise, Lee's Southern Families"). If you are a descendant of, or are directly related to a family found within this research, and are willing to reimburse me for the photo copy costs and mailing costs, then I can send you a "hard copy/printed report" which includes the current generation and their children (where known).

My son is responsible for the submission to Broderbund's World Family Tree Volume 7, Tree Number 1791. If there are differences between that submission and what is recorded here, then the data on this site is more accurate and up-to-date.

When you go to the data file, it includes some 7,880 individuals, so it may take 2 to 5 minutes to load, depending on the speed of your modem, be patient. If you have trouble getting the 'JAVA VERSION' to work, it is probably because you have an older computer that is not capable of downloading this large of a file. Try the 'HTML VERSION' instead.

Mrs. Emma Sharpe & family
Gulf Hammock, Fla. (note. Gulf Hammock is in Levy Co., FL)

My Dearest Ones:

As this is Monday morning the longest day in the year I will start early to tell you that we received your sweet letter just the other day. Was indeed glad to get a word from you all -- but so surprised to learn you was so far away in Fla. but as you had to go it was best that you went as you did. I hope you will do well there but you must write me a long letter and tell me all about your new place. Is it a mill town? is it an old or new town? has John a with them? and what is he doing? about what is his sallery? and do you get vegetables from the farmers? like you did in Caryville? and how far are you from church and schools? and is there any rattle snakes there? in other words tell me everything.

We spent the day with Pearl and Alec yesterday, myself & Tish. Olie, Vern, Ted, Bland, & [illegible] had the best time you ever was, a fine dinner and two freezers of ice cream, did not any of us bust but it was because we were really too tough.

Well this leaves us all in fine health I believe better than [illegible]. Hope this finds you all in the very bloom of health, as for news I am a failure this time. Nothing new hapening -- it has been real dry throug this section. However, crops are looking fine. We had a fine rain last night -- was worth so much to the farmers. I heard one farmer say yesterday that he had about three hundred acres in cotton this year. I ask him how the farmers were on cotton he said it was almost all in cotton this year which may lower the price.

Well did you know tomorrow will be one year ago since we went to your home in Caryville to spend about ten days, which was the best trip of my life -- will never forget it. Wish I could do the same this year but impossible. But I am anxiously waiting for you and Lizzie to come and spend some time with us. Get in touch with her and let us no about when you will come. I can't hardly wait for the time. Well I have got to eat breakfast now. Wish you were hear to help me. With oceans of love and our very best wishes for you in all your undertakings and asking you for a long letter as soon as you get this. I beg to remain lovingly yours as ever and always.

-- Obituary --

At the time of William's death, an obituary appeared in the local newspaper [exact date unknown]. The title was "W. A. Woodham Called by Death: Was Pioneer Citizen of This County." Selected text from the obituary reads as follows:

"Opp and the entire county sustained a great loss in the death of W. A. Woodham, better known to his friends throughout the state as 'Uncle Bill.' He died on Monday night, May 28, at the age of 76, following several years of declining health.

Uncle Bill had lived a life of usefulness, having followed several different diversions of livelihood. As a young man he taught school for several years, and since that time he has served as tax collector of Covington County and later as Justice of the Peace in Opp.

He was a splendid singer, and especially was he fond of sacred harp singing. Until he became a bedridden invalid some four years ago, he continued despite his years to teach singing lessons.

Uncle Bill had been in a critical condition several years following two strokes of paralysis, and his death, although a great sadness to his friends and relatives, did not come unexpected. Always with a sunny disposition and a friendly greeting so characteristic of the whole Woodham family, Uncle Bill's hospitality and loving spirit will always be cherished by those who knew him.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist Church of Opp with the following men officiating: his pastor, Rev. Andrew J. Jones of Hickory Grove, Rev. G. H. Shear, Rev. W. E. Fuller, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Opp and Rev. H. W. Williamson, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Opp."

GENERATION 6

Notes for Mary Ann Cummins:

Mary Ann appears to be the daughter of William and Emily, although this fact has not been absolutely confirmed.

iii. Daniel H. Cummins, born Abt. 1826 in NC.

60. John Wesley Woodham, born November 16, 1835 in Dale Co., AL (or Henry Co. -- see note); died November 02, 1910 in Covington Co., AL. He was the son of 120. Athanasius Woodham and 121. Mary Ann Kelly. He married 61. Mary Amanda Ard April 04, 1854 in Dale Co., AL.

61. Mary Amanda Ard (Source: (1) Claybank Memories, A History of Dale County, Alabama by Val L. McGee, published by the Dale County Historical Society, 1989. Much of the information about Mary Amana Ard's ancestors and their families came from this work. (Thanks to Debra Walker Flemming for sharing this resource.), (2) Dale County, Alabama Kin by Lydia Grimes. Other information about Mary Amanda's family was documented through personal correspondence with Lydia Grimes, the author of this book on Dale County, Alabama families.), born July 26, 1834 in Echo, Dale Co., AL; died February 17, 1905 in Covington Co., AL. She was the daughter of 122. John Ard and 123. Lavinia "Viney" Harper.

Notes for John Wesley Woodham:

John Wesley was born in Henry Co., AL and moved to Dale Co. early in his life. Records suggest that John's father, Athanasius, first moved his family from South Carolina to western Henry Co., and then moved to Dale Co. in the 1840's.

John Wesley Woodham was the youngest of 11 children born to his mother and father, and was born the year before his mother died. John Wesley moved his family to Covington County, Alabama (from Dale Co.) in 1854 and settled in a small community called Poley. John's brother, Aris, followed a few years later. John Wesley and his family were found in the Federal Census listings (Covington Co., AL) for 1860, 1866, and 1870. Their listing in the 1870 census appears below:

J.W. WOODAM 34 m (last name spelled incorrectly by the census taker)

Amanda 36 f

Josiah 16 m

James H. 13 m

William A. 12 m

Mary L. 10 f

Mikader 8 m

George 6 m

Aaron Y. 5 m

Nancy C. 2 f

Taylor 8/12 m (an eight month old child)

b. SEP

[Note. The "b" beside Sep's name indicates a person of color. Since no slaves were shown in the John Wesley and Amanda's earlier census listings, it may be that a freed black man came to live with the John Wesley Woodham family at some point after the Civil War, between 1866 and 1870.)

-- Obituary --

John Wesley Woodham's obituary reads, in part:

"He moved to Covington County before the Civil War and has been a resident of the county ever since. He served through the war, leaving his wife and few small children, in their newly settled home, when Covington was almost unsettled. He was the father of 15 children, 13 of whom are living within a few miles of the old home ... John was known all over the county as 'Uncle Johnny,' the man without an enemy. His funeral occurred last Thursday at Hickory Grove Church and was perhaps the largest funeral ever held in this county."

Notes for Mary Amanda Ard:

Mary Amanda Ard (known as Amanda) was the daughter of John Ard and the granddaughter of Judge William Harper of Covington County. John Wesley's brother, Aris Woodham III, married a Rebecca Jane Ard -- Amanda's sister. Amanda and John Woodham had 15 children together.

According to Malley Riley Short, as told to his granddaughter, Sandra Thompson, one of John Wesley and Mary Amanda's daughters had married a man who was worthless and she left him and moved home. The man continually harrassed them; he repeatedly came to the house and upset her. One day, the sisters and their Mother (Mary Amanda) went out and cut "switches" from bushes and waited for the man to show up. When he arrived and went into the house, the three women set upon him with the switches, pummeling his as hard as they could, until the man ran away. The troublemaker never came back -- ever.

---- Memorial Tribute to Mary Amanda ----

A tribute to Mary Amanda was written shortly after her death. A majority of that tribute, written by Amanda's nephew, A. J. Galloway, is found below.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF AMANDA WOODHAM

"The world is full of staying places, but not too full of homes. There is many a gilded palace and seat of luxury and wealth that is a world wide distance from home, but the object of this article, while but a common country farm was a true home.

I write this in memory of Aunt Amanda Woodham, whose Christian life made her home all and even more than my feeble pen has pictured above, but the sacred home was made sad and full of sorrow by the cold, icy hand of death on the 17th day of February last in Covington County, where the sorrowing husband still resides, and the memory of a dear companion can never be erased.

Amanda Woodham first saw the light of a beautiful world on July 26, 1834, near Echo, in Dale County, being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ard and a granddaughter of Judge Harper of Covington County.

At the beautiful dawning of womanhood aged twenty she was happily joined in holy wedlock to John W. Woodham on the 3rd day of April, 1854. Early in January 1857 they moved into the wild pine woods of Covington County where they spent a happy life together until she was called up higher. She was the mother of fifteen children, ten boys and three girls still survive, all of whom are married, and one hundred and one grandchildren, eighty six still living, eleven great-grandchildren, eight of them living, are the fruits of that happy couple. Her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren attended the funeral. What a throng of off-spring to follow a sainted mother to her last resting place on earth. May they all follow her Christian example and be with her in heaven.

In early childhood, she joined the Methodist Church and devoted her life to Christian duty. She leaves a brother, Rev. D. T. and Miss Sophronia Ard of Eufaula, and Mrs L.F. Miller of Echo, to cherish her memory. Rev. W. O. Self conducted the burial service at Hickory Grove Church where she was a member for many years.

Home has trials as severe as its joys are pleasant and tender. The pressure of the hand is an assurance of death, the closing breath, the convulsive rattle in the throat and all is over with the suffering. But then comes the desolation upon the living. Dear Uncle, lift your heart to God, though I know from personal experience that a sense of utter loneliness attends you everywhere as though the sun of your beacon has gone out, as you saw the gaping grave awaiting its victim to be let down to sleep on its cold bottom, heavy and dismal fall the covering clods, the saddest of all sounds, there is a vacant rocker left behind and relics all to make the agony more painful and to keep alive the suffering that broken hearts know not how to bear, but listen, she has gone through the fiery ordeal of death and now she is reaping the reward which awaits all Christians, and she stands freed from pain and sorrow, attended by angels in a brighter sphere, and with a beautiful robe awaits the coming of her kindred together with all good people to join her in an eternal union in Heaven.

Home, companion, mother, almost one. As a companion, she always worked with wisdom and love, and her husband good by uniting with him. She set the current of his life and by constant watch care, she saw it flow in the right direction, and the most important creation with her was how she might help him earn a living and be a Christian wife to her husband. She was a pure mother and I would have every reader who has or remembers a mother go back and dwell with that mother, to receive again her blessings. It will carry you back to the fresh warm fountains of being where the rosy hours of childhood, the season of sweet innocence when your mother's hand and kind carresses soothed the throbbing pain and when you went to her with every want and found in her your only changeless friend. Such was the home, the companionship and the true motherhood of Amanda Woodham, deceased.

Bereaved husband and relatives all have my heartfelt sympathy.

Oh, Mother Dear, thy gentle voice is hushed,
the warm true heart is stilled.
And on thy paled and peaceful breast
Is resting death's cold chill.

Thy hands are clasped upon thy breast,
We have kissed the marble brow,
And in our aching hearts we know
We have no loving mother now.

Through all pain you smiled,
A heavenly birth,
And God called you home,
You bade farewell to earth.
Heaven retaineth our dearest treasure,
Earth the lonely casket keeps,
And the sunbeams long to linger,
Where our sainted mother sleeps.

It is hard, dearest Mother, to break the tender cord,
When love has bound our hearts,
'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the words,
'We must forever part.'

Dearest Mother, we have laid thee,
In the grave's embrace,
But the memory will be cherished
Till we see thy heavenly face."

GENERATION 7

121. Mary Ann Kelly, born 1793; died 1836.

Notes for Athanasius Woodham:

Athanasius lived in the Stokes Bridge Community of the old Darlington District of South Carolina. In about 1832, Athanasius, his brother Aris, Jr., their uncle Edward Harley Woodham and others formed a wagon train and headed to Dale Co., Alabama. The country through which they traveled was still wild and undeveloped, so there were no roads or bridges. One can only imagine the difficulty of their trip. Atha and his family settled in western Henry County, Alabama, where he lived until the 1840's. Then, the family moved to Dale County, Alabama, settling between the east and west forks of the Choctawhatchee River.

Atha is buried in the Woodham Family Cemetery, on the top of a hill overlooking the valley, as are Edward Harley Woodham, Sr. and Aris Woodham, Jr. and their wives.

Unfortunately, Dale County, Alabama research is hampered because courthouse fires in 1869 and 1884 destroyed all important county records, including marriage licenses, deeds and wills.

(Source: "A Brief History of the Woodham Family of the South", by Robert Earl Woodham.)

Atha is named for Saint Athanasius, a leader of the early Christian Church. He had at least 15 children by two wives.

During the fall or winter of 1835 (a comment in notes re: Emberry Woodham, states that this family move to Alabama occurred in 1832, no source given), Atha with his brother, Aris Jr., and their uncle Edward Harley Woodham, Sr., gathered their families and formed a wagon train. They were joined by other relatives including at least 8 of the children of John and Mary Woodham Alexander, and friends. The wagon train headed westward to the new lands of South Alabama. The trip would require several months and included cattle. There were no roads or bridges through more than half the region they crossed. The country was still wild with virgin forests, big swamps, dangerous animals and marauding Indians.

The Muscogee or Creek Indians staged their last defence of their ancestral home shortly after the Woodham settlers arrived. This may have been the Creek Indian War of 1836-37 when bands of Creek Indians swept across Alabama, Georgia, and Florida. Atha, Aris Jr., and cousin, Presley Nelson Woodham (son of E.H., SR.) all joined Alabama Militia units. Atha and Presley joined Capt. Pouncey's Company of Blair's Battalion of Alabama Militia.

Atha settled in the Center Community of Henry County, AL, and bought federal land in November, 1836. After the death of his first wife, Mary Ann O'Kelly, he later married Nancy Barfield and moved just across the county line into Dale county, AL, where he died in 1856. Atha Sr.'s marriage to Nancy E. Barfield is listed: AL

Notes for Aris Woodham Sr.:

Aris Woodham, Sr.'s parents named him after an early Christian Leader. In the 1780's he moved with his parents to Darlington Co., SC and settled in in the area of Stokes Bridge and Ashland Communities, in what is today Lee Co., SC. He became one of the most industrious and prosperous members of our family. In 1808, he bought a farm containing 150 acres along with the grist mill from his father. He later bought 2 other farms from his father, covering 125 and 188 acres of land. He acquired other farms from neighbors over the years and the family cotton gin. In addition, he was also a farmer and a Blacksmith.

Later in life, Aris was ordained as a Methodist deacon and eventually as a Methodist minister. Francis Asbury, organizer of the Methodist Church in America, visited Aris' home on January 14, 1807. Some time later, Aris was ordained as a minister by Rev. James Jenkins, the first Superintendent of the Methodist Church of South Carolina. Aris preached his first sermon in 1812 at an "arbor meeting" presided over by Rev. Jenkins (more found below).

(Source: R.E. Woodham, "A Brief History of the Woodham Family of the South", May 1985. Thanks also to Sandra Thompson who shared a great deal of Woodham information and sources.)

In 1808, Aris Sr., bought from his father (Edward Jr.) 150 acres of the farm with, and including, the grist mill (apparently this was the "old home place" on which he lived until he died) and, later, two other farms of 125 acres and 188 acres. He also acquired neighboring farms. He was a blacksmith and manufactured farm tools, wagon parts, wagons, metal implements and other vital equipment.

He left 5 farms (870 acres) to wife, Rachel, and 3 eldest sons; 3 farms (534 acres) to wife and son Asa, to be held in trust for the minor children. Aris Sr. stipulated in his will that all his children would have grain ground and cotton ginned free for life as long as they would help keep the industries repaired. "Prior to his death, he gave his eldest sons, Athanasius and Edward, two farms containing 168 acres each. He stipulated the sale of household goods, farm tools and equipment, cattle and crops, and slaves so that the income could be divided among his minor children, each minor son to receive a share equal to that which he gave his elder sons. Aris, Jr., a minor, received a horse, bridle and saddle, furniture, cattle and income from a slave that was rented out so that the income was given to Aris. The other children also received horses, furniture, cattle and income."

The name, Aris, is said to be taken from a "saint" of the early Christian church: Aris Sr. did become a minister according to Darlington County records although the denomination has not been identified. Four of his sons have Biblical names; one is named after his father, and the sixth son is named after Saint Athanasius, another leader of the early Christian Church.

"A study of Aris' Estate helps [us] understand daily life during pioneer times. The most common consumer goods such as food and clothing required hard physical labor to produce, as attested to by the number of tools, equipment, spinning wheels, and crops in his estate. This family grew everything they ate and made their own clothes." At one of several auctions held to dispose of his estate, the following was recorded:

18 head of cattle sold for $120.00. A clock sold for $2.00.
1 horse sold for $100.00. 25 hogs sold for $40.00.
A wagon sold for $75.00. 3 Spinning wheels sold for $5.00.
1 lot of plantation tools sold for $8.00.
1 lot of carpenter's tools sold for $7.00.
2 chests and a writing desk sold for $5.00.

A "bed" was what we call the mattress and the "furniture" was the bedstead. A feather bed and furniture was a highly prized possession. The estate also included such items as: a coffee mill; jugs; bottles; several buffets; a linen wheel; furniture; kitchenware; a silver watch; and a collection of books, all indicating that Aris had achieved a comfortable and prominent standing in the community.

Additional information was provided to Sandra Thompson in the Notes of Bob Woodham (August, 1997). He states: "He (Aris, Sr.) was a Methodist minister and a blacksmith. He preached his first sermon one summer night in 1812 at an "arbor meeting" presided over by the first Superintendent of the Methodist Church of South Carolina, Rev. James Jenkins. Francis Asbury, organizer of the Methodist Church in America visited Aris Sr.'s home on January 14, 1807. Some time later, Jenkins ordained Aris Sr."

Bob Woodham continues... "She (Rachel) continued his (Aris Sr.'s) religious work after his death. she witnessed the will of Moses Sanders, who gave $8,000.00 to the Methodist Church at Darlington. Rachel was probably a founding member of Cypress Methodist Church which was organized before the nearby Hebron Methodist Church." Aris Sr.'s burial in the Old Woodham Cemetery is recorded in "the family Bible." Rachel is buried beside her husband.

(Source: "History of Wesley Chapel United Methodist Church, Lydia, SC: 1789 - 1989", by John Lennell Andrews, Jr., c. 1992 by same; John Lennell Andrews, Jr., c/o Wesley Chapel United Methodist Church, P.O.Box 56, Lydia, SC 29079. LCCC Number: 91-67432. The Reprint Company, Publishers, P.O. Box 5401, Spartanburg, SC 29304.)

According to Mr. Andrews, the Family Bible of Ariss Woodham was owned and in the possession of Mrs. Gedelle Culpepper of Lee Co., SC, in the 1980's. That Bible records their marriage on Feb 14, 1791, and Rachel's parentage and birth on March 22, 1773.

Mr. Andrews also cites the Will of Ariss Woodham, dated June 5, 1818, Darlington Co., SC; Probate Records, Darlington Co. Historical Commission, CAse A, Number 695.

In his book, Mr. Andrews tells us of the beginning of Methodism in the Pee Dee River and Lynches River sections of South Carolina. He quotes from the writings of Charles Woodmason, "an itinerant Anglican minister", describing the early settlers along Lynches Creek... "their cabins were open and exposed to the harsh winter cold. They wore no shoes or stockings, and their children ran half naked." Woodmason felt that the Indians were better off than these settlers, writes Mr. Andrews.

He continues . . . "Early Methodist ministers often traveled over 100 miles per week on the circuit over poor roads and through unfamiliar territory." Because of earlier influences, tradition says that "in the early years of the Pee Dee Circuit, perhaps 1789, a group of citizens in Darlington County, in the neighborhood of a small stream named Boggy Gully, banded together to form the first Methodist society in the county. It was the custom... to meet in the home of a prominent citizen until the society was strong enough to build a local meeting house. The circuit preachers visited and held services... once every three to four months. It was the responsibility of the members of the local society to hold regular meetings between the visits." Evidence suggests that the Gully Meeting House was in existence before 1800. In a deed, dated Feb. 17, 1809, John DuBose conveys 30 acres of land to Gillis Whiddon . . . "on the South Side of Boggy Gully, beginning at the road leading from McCullum's ferry to Darlington Court House on Elijah Hutson's (Hudson's) line to a Black jack Corner, near an Old Meeting House, . . . "A later deed and old maps indicate the location to be on present-day SC Hwy 34, on the west side of Boggy Gully, about 3/4 mile from present-day Lee's Crossroads."

Keeping this location in mind, my interest turns to Camp Meetings. Mr. Andrews quotes scholars and writers regarding the origins of these meetings. His evidence strongly indicates that these began around NC, Kentucky, Tennessee, and South Carolina, and specifically refer to a revival about 1800 in Logan Co., Kentucky, during which the congregation grew so large that the services had to be moved outside. Services began on Saturday evening and continued until Tuesday morning. The crowd spent nights in crude shelters made with branches, or slept in their wagons. He cites the 1st such meeting in SC as occurring in June, 1802, at Hanging Rock, with 15 Methodist, Baptist, and Presbyterian ministers and 3,000 people attending. It lasted from Friday evening through Monday morning. Many came to know the Lord.

That same year the first Camp Meeting was held at the Gully, in Darlington District, led by Rev. James "Thundering Jimmy" Jenkins, accompanied by Rev. Thomas Shaw. Rev. Jenkins began and preached until exhausted. He retired to the Meeting House to lie down, and Rev. Shaw took over, preaching through the night. One of those who professed salvation that night was Aris Woodham, who lived "near McCullum's Ferry on Lynches Creek some six or seven miles from the Gully Meeting House." Aris Woodham would become a "prominent local preacher" of the area, a deacon, and eventually an itinerant minister. Jenkins described him as "one of the most industrious and untiring local preachers I ever saw . . . he frequently worked hard all day, and then held one or two night meetings through the week."

As Camp Meetings grew, organization was required to maintain order. An oblong square site would be cleared to accomodate tents; one or two stages were constructed for speakers; according to custom of the day, men and women were seated in separate sections; meetings began at dawn. The people were roused from sleep; about 10 minutes later began songs and prayer; sunrise sermon was followed by breakfast. About 10 a.m., another sermon began and continued until about 1p.m. and then, Lunch; another sermon began about 3 PM and continued until suppertime, about sunset. The last sermon was given by candlelight until late in the evening. Guards were appointed to walk through the camp during the night to prevent rowdy individual's from creating any kind of commotion. Most Camp Meetings were held during the warm months. Apparently this Camp Meeting ground at the Gully Meeting House was large and wason a main road.

Notes for Rachel Beasley:

(Source: "A Brief History of the Woodham Family of the South", Robert Earl Woodham, May 1985.)

Her husband was so loved by the family that many family descendants carry his name. They were believed to have at least 14 children. Rachel died in 1861 leaving a will written in 1858.

(Source: "A Genealogy of the Woodham Family of the South", R.E. Woodham, May 1985.)

"Asa, along with his mother, inherited the home place, grist mill and cotton gn from his father and a sizable amount from his mother. In her old age, Rachel lived with Asa and his family.... Asa, his brother Stephen and their sister, Rachel, were the only three children of Aris, Sr. and his wife Rachel to remain in South Carolina.... Asa became a prominent plantation owner and businessman in his community (Ashland)."

"He (Asa) was a founding member of Hebron Methodist Church, the first church established in the Stokes Bridge Community. In a deed, dated 1838, Asa is referred to as a Trustee of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The Membership List of Hebron Church, dated 1840, lists Asa, Laney, and their son, Jared. Asa's name has "C.L." beside it, indicating he was a Congregational Leader. In a deed, dated 1849, Asa was listed as a Trustee of Lynch's Creek Academy.\\

Asa left no will, but a deed, dated Feb. 1, 1869, filed in Darlington District Court indicated that he had died and that his estate was divided equally among his children, daughters and their husbands, his son Jared's widow and her son.

Asa, Laney, and at least 5 of their children are buried in the Old Woodham Cemetery, buried in the Old Woodham Cemetery,

(Ashland-Stoke's Bridge Community, Lee Co.) SC.
Apparently, son Jonathan Edward ("John Ed")

Later the Cemetery was acquired by John Wesley Woodham, son of Stephen."

Notes for Aris Woodham Jr.:

In the will of his father, Aris Woodham, Sr., he received a horse, bridle and saddle, furniture, cattle and income from a slave that was rented out so that the income was given Aris, Jr., as well as having their grain ground and cotton ginned free for the rest of his life. On the condition that they help keep these industries repaired, all of this was given to him by his father in his will. He bought federal land in Dale Co., AL in April, 1836. He joined McInis' Company, 42nd Alabama Militia Regiment in the Creek Indian War.

One source indicates that Aris, Jr. married Rachel Richardson about 1818. Rachel was born about 1800 and died in 1839. It is not known at present whether Aris was married to both ladies or if not, which one was his wife. (Children listed for Aris, Jr. and Rachel were Joseph R., Edward Christopher, Elmiah A. C., Prudence J., Martha, John Alexander, Stephen M., Mary T., Nelly, Rebecca, and Ira Aris Woodham.)

She was the daughter of 494. David Russell and 495. Susan (Saxon or) Sexton.

Notes for William Harper:

According to Lydia Grimes, author of Dale County Alabama Kin, William Harper was born in Wilkes County, Georgia while another source shows his birth place as Jones County (Hardin Creek), Georgia.

All twelve of William and Matilda Harper's children were born in Georgia prior to 1829. The family moved to the Sylvan Grove or Walding Crossroads area of Dale County, Alabama in 1830 (after the census was taken). William was commissioned as Probate Judge of Dale County on April 6, 1832. During the Creek Indian Wars of 1837 and 1838, William served as quartermaster and commissary officer for his militia company.

When Coffee County split off from Dale County, Judge Harper was living at Cole's Bridge on the Coffee County side of the new county line, so on December 31, 1841 he resigned his post as Probate Judge of Dale County.

Notes for Matilda Russell:

After her husband, William, died Matilda moved to the home of her youngest daughter in the Post Oak community near Ozark, Alabama. She died there on August 17, 1883.

John was first listed in the taxtables of Upper Hundred Cliffs, Calvert County, MD in 1732-33, which is on a peninsula 100 miles south of Baltimore.

In 1773, Harford County was created out of the eastern portion of Baltimore County, and a main road was the dividing line between the counties. After the change of county line, even though John and Benjamin lived across the road from each other, they lived in separate counties.

John is listed as a member of St. George Parish, one of the early churches in the Baltimore Co., MD area.

Notes for Margaret "Maggie" Sellers:

Maggie grew up in southern Pennsylvania, near the intersecting lines of Virginia and Maryland. This was a particularly dangerous area during the French and Indian War. One day while her father was working with neighbors in a distant field, Maggie went to take him dinner. Maggie told her father that her mother was crying when she left. Sensing danger, Mr. Sellers and some neighbors sped home. Upon arriving, they found Mrs. Sellers dead -- having been scalped by Indians.

Grieving and discouraged, Mr. Sellers soon joined a tide of colonists which was moving southward to escape violence with the Indians. They found haven in the upper Carolinas and made good homes for themselves.

Notes for Edward Woodham Jr.:

Edward Woodham, Jr. served in the Revolutionary Army with the Dobbs Regiment of the North Carolina Militia. This fact has been confirmed by a member of the Woodham Family Association, and details from his research are to be provided soon in the Woodham Family Journal. This journal is published online at the following website:

<http://www.swiftsite.com/SouthernFamilyHistory/woodnl.htm>

He also established one of the first Cotton Gins in S.C. He was a farmer and he owned a grist mill. He had 238 acres of land, in Dobbs County, North Carolina surveyed. He received the patent or grant for the land on September 26, 1766. Edward, Jr. and his family moved from Dobbs Co., NC to Darlington, South Carolina, settling on the north side of Lynch's river, in what became the Ashland Community.

In 1805, he established one of the first Cotton Gins in SC. Today, a Woodham Cotton Gin is located in the same Ashland Community. He also built a grist Mill on one of his farms. After his death, he left a large estate, and his son-in-law, John Alexander, was executor of his will. [information courtesy of Christy Woodham]

---- Woodham Family Cemetery, Lee County, South Carolina ----

Edward Jr. is buried in the Woodham Family Cemetery located in the Stokes Bridge Community of what is now part of Lee County, South Carolina. The cemetery was established in the late 1790's or by 1800 as a family burial ground. It is located on what was originally the farm of Edward Woodham Jr. which he bought in the 1780's. The land surrounding the Cemetery is still owned by the Woodham family. The Cemetery is located on a Lee County public dirt road, just off Hebron Church Road which runs north from Woodham Road to Hebron Methodist Church. From Bishopville, travel northeast on US Highway 15, cross Lynch's River bridge and turn left on the first paved road. Go north on this highway to the first paved road on the right: this is Woodham Road. Travel east on Woodham Road to the first paved road on the left: this is Hebron Church Road. Go north until you see a group of large farm sheds and barns on the right. This is "Tococobe Farms", a joint Woodham - Beasley farming operation. Look for a small dirt road on the left near the farm buildings. The Cemetery is located a few hundred yards west of the paved road, on the south side of the dirt road.

(Source: "A Brief History of the Woodham Family of the South", Robert Earl Woodham, May, 1985.)

Records show that on June 6, 1764, E.W., Jr., surveyed 238 acres of land "on the east side of Bear Creek joining Phillip Stone's and Nathaniel Walters line", in Dobbs Co., NC, just south of modern Kinston, NC. He received the official grant on Sept. 26, 1766. On Aug 10, 1767, he surveyed 440 acres of land "between Bair Creek & lower Falling Creek" adjoining Phillip Stone, John Hanks and his own line, in Dobbs Co., NC. The grant was issued Dec 22, 1768.

He appears on the 1769 Tax List of Dobbs Co. which shows that both Edwards, Sr., and Jr., each have one adult male in the family. The 1770 Dobbs Co., NC, Tax List valued Edward, Jr.'s property at 2,882 English pounds sterling and show him living in Capt. Jeremiah Loftin's District (in Bear Creek south of Kinston, NC).

NC State Archives show a pay receipt for early Colonial military service, Revolutionary War, dated Feb. 22, 1777. He is shown as on active duty with Dobbs County Regiment of NC Militia on Sept. 2, 1781. Another Receipt for $1500.00 on April 25, 1781, shows that he volunteered for one year's service in the Continental Army (Federal troops) and lists Edward (Jr.) as 35 years of age, dark complexioned, and 5'6" tall.

After his father died, he moved his family to the area of Darlington County which later became part of Lee County, SC. He settled on land on the north side of the Lynches River in what became the Ashland Community. He acquired several small plantations in the area where he raised food crops, cotton, and cattle. His mother, Eleanor, lived with them until her death.

An additional note is from the writings of Bob Woodham in 1997. He states that Edward Jr., owned land on both sides of the Lynches River. Also stated is that he moved to the western side (Old Sumter District) of the Lynches River and sold his holdings on the eastern side (Old Darlington District, now Lee County). The sale is dated Feb. 1, 1808.

About 1805 or before, Ed Jr. established one of the first cotton gins in SC. He also built a grist mill on one of his farms located on a small branch that fed nearby Lynches River.

It is believed that along with his known children, he and Mary had two daughters as yet unidentified, perhaps they died as infants. Eleanor "Ellen", who is listed by Frank M. Richey ("Woodham Trails", May 1995) is probably one of the two.

Edward Jr. died two years after his son, Aris, and left a large estate. Most of the land had already been distributed to his sons and grandsons. In his will, he left additional property and slaves to his grandchildren and his wife. His son-in-law, John Alexander, was executor of his estate.

Edward Jr. supposedly gave a plantation to Mary Wiggins, mother of Daniel Wiggins (Married Susannah Truitt of Darlington). He also gave land to Daniel Wiggins and made him AN executor of his estate. This info comes from Billy Peters, Winter Haven, FL, who is descended from Daniel Wiggins, and whose gr-gr-grandmother is Elinor Dupree Woodham Windham, granddaughter of Edward Jr.

Jesse Alexander of Sumter, SC, confirmed that in his research he saw in a Will Book that land had been bequeathed to Daniel Wiggins and that Daniel Wiggins had been made an executor of Edward's estate.

Notes for Edward Woodham Sr.:

(Source: "A Brief History of the Woodham Family of the South", Robert Earl Woodham, May 1985.)

On April 2 and Sept 19, 1740, Edward witnessed the baptism of slaves owned by Col. Benjamin Harrison who was a Virginia Delegate to the Continental Congress, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, a Governor of Virginia, and his son and grandson were U.S. Presidents.

The Albemarle Parish (VA) Register of the Anglican Church of England records the birth of Ed. Sr.'s daughter, Mary, on May 2, 1741, and her Christening on May 24, 1741. In the mid-1740's, E.W., Sr., moved to Granville Co., NC. His land bordered the Tar River, as shown by deed records of 1748-1756. On Sept. 2, 1757, he surveyed 104 acres of land in Johnston Co., NC, which later became part of Dobbs Co., NC, and later Lenoir Co., NC. Official grant, from the Royal Colony of North Carolina, for the land was issued April 10, 1761. This land was located "in the fork of Falling Creek joining Lovick Young's land". According to the notes of Bob Woodham, written in 1997, the farm adjoined land owned by "Richard Caswell, the 1st Governor of the new State of NC and a General in the Continental Army. Caswell was named as Administrator of the estate of John Woodham in 1767."

He appears on the Dobbs Co. Tax List of 1769 and in 1780 showing that he lived in Capt. Henry Taylor's District which was near modern day LaGrange and Institute Communities of NC. The farm was valued at 1,154 English pounds.

On Sept. 2, 1781, a Dobbs Co. Militia Muster Roll shows that Edward, Sr., was "too old or infirm" for active duty.

Edward Sr. died in the fall or winter of 1785, not long after the war ended. North Carolina State Archives show that in January, 1786, land was sold to Lemuel Hardee, Eleanor Woodham is listed as "Adtrx". Eleanor sold the farm and moved with her son, Edward Jr., and his family to the area of Darlington Co. that later became part of Lee County, SC. They settled on the north side of the Lynches River in what became the Ashland Community. Eleanor lived there with her family until her death sometime between 1800 and 1810. Bob Woodham's notes also state that Eleanor "may have been the first adult buried in the Old Woodham Cemetery" in the Ashland-Stokes Bridge Community, Lee County, SC. The cemetery was part of "the old homeplace," and at some point later in history, the grave markers were destroyed. Eventually, the land was used for planting crops. It's my understanding that the bodies of the people buried there, remain there.

John Fowler, My Great-Grandfather

Posted by Judy Fowler on July 24, 1998 at 13:16:17:

Judy Fowler, 2535 Judge Logue Road, Newton, Alabama 36352, seeks info on great-grandfather, John Fowler.

JOHN FOWLER was born ca. 1847 in Fayette County, Alabama, died 3 April 1929 in Houston County, Alabama, the son of DANIEL FOWLER (ca. 1824-4 March 1897) and CATHERINE (ca. 1832, died after 1850) (maiden unk).

Per the 1850 Fayette County census, he had one known "whole" sister, Kate, born ca. 1850 who apparently died in infancy/early childhood.

John's stepmother was MALISSA "ELISSIE" OTTS FOWLER (ca. 1835-1906). Known half-siblings were TAYLOR B. FOWLER (m. Francis "Fannie" Ann Price), THADDEUS FOWLER, MARISSA "SIS" FOWLER (m. William Hamp Smith), DANIEL F. FOWLER (m. Rhoda Brown), REBECCA J. FOWLER, FRANCES FOWLER, THOMAS FOWLER (m. Martha Lindley), ANDREW FOWLER ? and MARION FOWLER.

JOHN FOWLER married VERMILLION DAUGHTRY (20 June 1852-13 June 1931/parents: John Bryant Daughtry and Rachel Woodham) and had these known children: WILLIAM E. FOWLER (m. Elizabeth "Lizzie" Lee), JOHN BRYANT "TOM" FOWLER (m. Ella Clyde Lee), MINNIE ERON FOWLER (m. William L. Fulford), ETHEL FOWLER (never married), REESE FOWLER (m. Annie Mae Rainwater), JAMES TANCE FOWLER (m. Lucy Lee/they are my grandparents), EWELL SHELTON "LULEY" FOWLER (m. Lillie Collins), and E. MASCO FOWLER (m. Belle Brannon). Except for Annie Mae (Rainwater) Fowler, who is buried in Texas, this family is buried in the Winslette Chapel Methodist Church (formerly Piney Grove Church) in the Jellico Community of Houston County, Alabama.

The 1900 Dale County Census lists a MOLLIE FOWLER as a daughter. Who is she? No one in my family has heard of her. Could she have been a neighbor or relative, mistakenly listed as a daughter? This is the only census that lists a Mollie in the family.

Sometime between 1860 and 1870, JOHN FOWLER left Fayette County, settling first in Dale County, later the Jellico Community of Houston County, Alabama. Family legend says he never went back to Fayette County nor gave reason(s) for having left. Why did he leave? Did he ever go back, even when his father died? Where else could he have gone and what done before settling in "LA" (Lower Alabama)? Is it possible John stayed in touch with his family all along?

John obviously had some contact with his family. In the later 1920's TAYLOR, FANNIE and THADDEUS FOWLER came to visit JOHN and his family. A MOODY FOWLER also came and spent some time with John. In 1932, LOIS FOWLER, a daughter of Thomas Fowler, visited John's daughter Ethel. This is the last known visit of any of the "upstate" relatives.
