Turnage Family Index

Introduction

The "TURNAGE FAMILY INDEX" is an attempt to list every known person of this name in America (regardless of spelling), from our first ancestor who came to America from England up to the most recent births in our Family.

The INDEX also lists wives of Turnages. It includes persons who have been adopted by Turnages who subsequently used the family name.

The INDEX had its beginnings in the early 1970's when our Family Historian Robert Earl Woodham found it difficult to "identify" many relatives because of so many with the same names. He began with a list of all the Turnages he knew of which he hoped would someday be the index of a book on our family history he might write. He listed the person's fathers or in the case of wives, their husbands. He quickly discovered that there were many with the same name who also had fathers with the same name. When relatives telephoned him, he found he was wasting time looking up which particular Turnage the relative was talking about.

Since the pages had a lot of extra space left, Robert Earl decided to add additional information about each person to further help identify them, such as the year they were born. He kept adding information to his index until he realized he had invented an index with which he could trace almost every Turnage's direct ancestry back to our first ancestor in America. By 1972, when the final style of the INDEX was adopted, Robert Earl had created one of the most unusual family indexes ever known.

In 1985, Robert Earl published a similar index of his father's Woodham family.

Every effort has been made to include all the known white Turnages/Turnidges who have ever lived in the United States, from the year 1700 up to the present. New names are added almost every day to try to keep it current with new births, as well as newly discovered relatives who were previously unknown to us. This effort is an official project of the Turnage Family Association, the first national, non-profit family club ever established for our family. It was founded in 1979 by Robert Earl Woodham, our Turnage Family Historian and son of Norma Turnage. It is the avowed goal of the Turnage Family Association to gather and preserve information and records on all our family. The Turnage Family Association also sponsors the Turnage Family National Reunion and the Turnage Family Tribune, the first national family newsletter ever established for our Family.

The "TURNAGE FAMILY INDEX" may be used to trace a Turnage's direct family lineage back as far as possible with an ultimate goal of tracing each Turnage relative's family line back to our first ancestor in America, George Turnage Junior who came to the Colony of North Carolina from Essex County, England shortly after 1700.

All relatives are invited to contribute information to the Turnage Family Association to be preserved in our Turnage Family National Library and be included in the "TURNAGE FAMILY INDEX". This should be a family project for all of us.

EXPLANATION

There are eight columns of information. When no information appears in a column, it is unknown to the author. By columns, the information is given as:

(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)	(6)	(7)	(8)
first name	middle name	nickname or maiden name of wife	year born	where born	father's first name	father's middle name	father's ID

- (1) Column one lists the Turnage's first name.
- (2) Column two gives the person's middle name (names).
- (3) Column three lists the person's nickname, if known, in parentheses or whatever name they were most usually known by, which is often their middle. For instance Robert Stephen ("Steve") indicates the person's nickname was "Steve". All nicknames are given in quotation marks inside parentheses. If he was known as Stephen, his middle name, then it will appear simply in parentheses but without quotation marks, indicating this was part of his actual name. When a name appears in all capital letters, this is the maiden name of a wife of a Turnage. When their maiden name is unknown, an underlined blank appears. For example, Mamie (no middle name) JOHNSON indicates that this lady is the wife of the person in columns six and seven. In my original index, all maiden names were capitalized and underlined. However, the new computer I have will not allow you to underline a name with all capitals! Several other things had to be altered due to computerization.
- (4) Column four lists the year the person was born in four digits. When only two or three digits are shown, such as 18--, 193-, this means that their exact birthdates are unknown to us but that they were born in the 1800's or in the second case, in the 1930's. when a year appears like this: 1939ca, it means that they were born circa or about the year 1939 but that we have no confirmation of this. The year born has been taken from many sources and some of these may not be totally reliable, especially census records. In some instances of public documents, we have found the information to be false. This is especially true of Social Security records. Many people often give their birthdate as one or more years earlier than they were actually born in order to begin receiving their Social Security benefits earlier than allowed. This certainly doesn't help us with keeping our family history "straight".
- (5) Column five lists where a person was born. In most instances, this is the name of a county. Only in a few instances have the names of cities been listed and such are usually large or well-known ones. When a city is listed in parentheses, such as (Goldsboro)NC, this means we do not know where this person was born but we have found a record on them in that city or they had some connection to it, often merely a telephone book listing. If you are unfamiliar with the name of the county, check the "Location of Births" section following this where the most frequently listed county names are listed by state. In cases where there are several states with counties of the same name, the county having the most Turnages will be listed by itself while counties in other states will have the state abbreviations to further identify them. For instance, Wayne listed alone indicates Wayne County, North Carolina, while other Wayne Counties will be listed as Wayne, Ms for Wayne County, Mississippi, etc.

- (6) Column six gives the person's father's first name.
- (7) Column seven lists the father's middle name. When the first column is blank and there is a name in the seventh column, this means we know his middle name but not his first name.
- (8) Column eight is a further identification of the father. The first part of this is a set of initials within parentheses. These are the initials of the father's father. This is necessary due to the large number of people with the same name. The second part of the identification (or ID) is a set of two numbers. This is the last two digits of the year in which the father was born. For instance, if the person's father's name is Gordon and Gordon's ID is listed as (WE)91, this means that you should look for a Gordon whose father's initials are W. E. Turnage and that Gordon was born in 1891.

Location of Births

The 5th column in this INDEX lists where a person was born. In most cases, the name of the county is shown. In a few cases only, a city is named as the birthplace when the city is located in a county with two or more sizeable towns or a well-known city. In other instances, a city is listed in parentheses: (Goldsboro). Any time a community is listed in parentheses, it is not known where this person was born but a record of some type has been found on them in Goldsboro, NC, indicating they lived in that area at one time. This type listing is used especially where we have discovered persons in telephone books but who we have not yet identified.

The following is a list of the county names used most frequently in this book, listed by state.

HOW TO USE THIS INDEX

The names are arranged alphabetically except in the case of variant spellings for common names. For instance, Kathy, Cathy, Catheryn, Cathryne, Katie, Kattie, Kathryn, etc. will all be listed under the spelling of Catherine, the most common spelling of this name.

Various spellings as well as nicknames, if they are known, are cross-referenced and listed throughout the INDEX. If a person has been known most of his life by a nickname, then check for that name and it will list the full given names for all persons with that nickname. Then check each of those persons to find the correct individual. Nicknames provide a real problem when trying to index a large family. Often, few people outside a small clique of friends and immediate relatives know the person by this nickname. But those friends and close relatives hand down the name to their descendants and future generations may lose all knowledge of the actual given name of the person.

In the case of more than one person with the same name, they are listed chronologically, with the person born first listed first, down to the most recently born. In the case of a relative with a common name such as John or James, it may be difficult to determine which one you are searching to identify. In such a situation, you should try to discover how old the person was to determine when he was born.

Only Turnages are listed in this book. Our historian Robert Earl has also compiled an index of the descendants of Turnage women who do not bear the Turnage name but who are equally part of our Family, such as himself. He has also compiled an index of the husbands and wives of the Turnage family.

Once you understand what the columns of information are, it is easy to use the INDEX to search for a particular Turnage relative or even to trace down all your Turnage ancestors back to the early 1700's. The best place to start is with yourself, if you were born with Turnage as your family name. If you are not listed, then look for your father or grandfather. A lot of research work has gone into our INDEX but unfortunately there are still many Turnages we have not yet learned of as yet to include in our family records.

When you find yourself or the first ancestor listed, then look in Columns six and seven to learn who the father is. Then look up the father to learn who his father was, and so on. If you want to discover how you are related to another Turnage, do this on each of you, writing down the names of each generation across from each other until you reach a common ancestor. Then, like the steps on a ladder, write down brother, 1st cousin, 2nd cousin, etc. between each generation until you reach yourself and the other person. Always remember that your grandfather's first cousins are also your first cousins but removed by two generations: in other words his first cousins are your first cousins, twice removed. Your grandfather's first cousin's grandchildren are your third cousins.

Turnage Family Index

Introduction

The "TURNAGE FAMILY INDEX" is an attempt to list every known person of this name in America (regardless of spelling), from our first ancestor who came to America from England up to the most recent births in our Family.

The INDEX also lists wives of Turnages. It includes persons who have been adopted by Turnages who subsequently used the family name.

The INDEX had its beginnings in the early 1970's when our Family Historian Robert Earl Woodham found it difficult to "identify" many relatives because of so many with the same names. He began with a list of all the Turnages he knew of which he hoped would someday be the index of a book on our family history he might write. He listed the person's fathers or in the case of wives, their husbands. He quickly discovered that there were many with the same name who also had fathers with the same name. When relatives telephoned him, he found he was wasting time looking up which particular Turnage the relative was talking about.

Since the pages had a lot of extra space left, Robert Earl decided to add additional information about each person to further help identify them, such as the year they were born. He kept adding information to his index until he realized he had invented an index with which he could trace almost every Turnage's direct ancestry back to our first ancestor in America. By 1972, when the final style of the INDEX was adopted, Robert Earl had created one of the most unusual family indexes ever known.

In 1985, Robert Earl published a similar index of his father's Woodham family.

Every effort has been made to include all the known white Turnages/Turnidges who have ever lived in the United States, from the year 1700 up to the present. New names are added almost every day to try to keep it current with new births, as well as newly discovered relatives who were previously unknown to us. This effort is an official project of the Turnage Family Association, the first national, non-profit family club ever established for our family. It was founded in 1979 by Robert Earl Woodham, our Turnage Family Historian and son of Norma Turnage. It is the avowed goal of the Turnage Family Association to gather and preserve information and records on all our family. The Turnage Family Association also sponsors the Turnage Family National Reunion and the Turnage Family Tribune, the first national family newsletter ever established for our Family.

The "TURNAGE FAMILY INDEX" may be used to trace a Turnage's direct family lineage back as far as possible with an ultimate goal of tracing each Turnage relative's family line back to our first ancestor in America, George Turnage Junior who came to the Colony of North Carolina from Essex County, England shortly after 1700.

All relatives are invited to contribute information to the Turnage Family Association to be preserved in our Turnage Family National Library and be included in the "TURNAGE FAMILY INDEX". This should be a family project for all of us.

EXPLANATION

There are eight columns of information. When no information appears in a column, it is unknown to the author. By columns, the information is given as:

(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)	(6)	(7)	(8)
first name	middle name	nickname or maiden name of wife	year born	where born	father's first name	father's middle name	father's ID

- (1) Column one lists the Turnage's first name.
- (2) Column two gives the person's middle name (names).
- (3) Column three lists the person's nickname, if known, in parentheses or whatever name they were most usually known by, which is often their middle. For instance Robert Stephen ("Steve") indicates the person's nickname was "Steve". All nicknames are given in quotation marks inside parentheses. If he was known as Stephen, his middle name, then it will appear simply in parentheses but without quotation marks, indicating this was part of his actual name. When a name appears in all capital letters, this is the maiden name of a wife of a Turnage. When their maiden name is unknown, an underlined blank appears. For example, Mamie (no middle name) JOHNSON indicates that this lady is the wife of the person in columns six and seven. In my original index, all maiden names were capitalized and underlined. However, the new computer I have will not allow you to underline a name with all capitals! Several other things had to be altered due to computerization.
- (4) Column four lists the year the person was born in four digits. When only two or three digits are shown, such as 18--, 193-, this means that their exact birthdates are unknown to us but that they were born in the 1800's or in the second case, in the 1930's. when a year appears like this: 1939ca, it means that they were born circa or about the year 1939 but that we have no confirmation of this. The year born has been taken from many sources and some of these may not be totally reliable, especially census records. In some instances of public documents, we have found the information to be false. This is especially true of Social Security records. Many people often give their birthdate as one or more years earlier than they were actually born in order to begin receiving their Social Security benefits earlier than allowed. This certainly doesn't help us with keeping our family history "straight".
- (5) Column five lists where a person was born. In most instances, this is the name of a county. Only in a few instances have the names of cities been listed and such are usually large or well-known ones. When a city is listed in parentheses, such as (Goldsboro)NC, this means we do not know where this person was born but we have found a record on them in that city or they had some connection to it, often merely a telephone book listing. If you are unfamiliar with the name of the county, check the "Location of Births" section following this where the most frequently listed county names are listed by state. In cases where there are several states with counties of the same

Location of Births

The 5th column in this INDEX lists where a person was born. In most cases, the name of the county is shown. In a few cases only, a city is named as the birthplace when the city is located in a county with two or more sizeable towns or a well-known city. In other instances, a city is listed in parentheses: (Goldsboro). Any time a community is listed in parentheses, it is not known where this person was born but a record of some type has been found on them in Goldsboro, NC, indicating they lived in that area at one time. This type listing is used especially where we have discovered persons in telephone books but who we have not yet identified.

The following is a list of the county names used most frequently in this book, listed by state.

HOW TO USE THIS INDEX

The names are arranged alphabetically except in the case of variant spellings for common names. For instance, Kathy, Cathy, Catheryn, Cathryne, Katie, Kattie, Kathryn, etc. will all be listed under the spelling of Catherine, the most common spelling of this name.

Various spellings as well as nicknames, if they are known, are cross-referenced and listed throughout the INDEX. If a person has been known most of his life by a nickname, then check for that name and it will list the full given names for all persons with that nickname. Then check each of those persons to find the correct individual. Nicknames provide a real problem when trying to index a large family. Often, few people outside a small clique of friends and immediate relatives know the person by this nickname. But those friends and close relatives hand down the name to their descendants and future generations may lose all knowledge of the actual given name of the person.

In the case of more than one person with the same name, they are listed chronologically, with the person born first listed first, down to the most recently born. In the case of a relative with a common name such as John or James, it may be difficult to determine which one you are searching to identify. In such a situation, you should try to discover how old the person was to determine when he was born.

Only Turnages are listed in this book. Our historian Robert Earl has also compiled an index of the descendants of Turnage women who do not bear the Turnage name but who are equally part of our Family, such as himself. He has also compiled an index of the husbands and wives of the Turnage family.

Once you understand what the columns of information are, it is easy to use the INDEX to search for a particular Turnage relative or even to trace down all your Turnage ancestors back to the early 1700's. The best place to start is with yourself, if you were born with Turnage as your family name. If you are not listed, then look for your father or grandfather. A lot of research work has gone into our INDEX but unfortunately there are still many Turnages we have not yet learned of as yet to include in our family records.

When you find yourself or the first ancestor listed, then look in Columns six and seven to learn who the father is. Then look up the father to learn who his father was, and so on. If you want to discover how you are related to another Turnage, do this on each of you, writing down the names of each generation across from each other until you reach a common ancestor. Then, like the steps on a ladder, write down brother, 1st cousin, 2nd cousin, etc. between each generation until you reach yourself and the other person. Always remember that your grandfather's first cousins are also your first cousins but removed by two generations: in other words his first cousins are your first cousins, twice removed. Your grandfather's first cousin's grandchildren are your third cousins.

name, the county having the most Turnages will be listed by itself while counties in other states will have the state abbreviations to further identify them. For instance, Wayne listed alone indicates Wayne County, North Carolina, while other Wayne Counties will be listed as Wayne, Ms for Wayne County, Mississippi, etc.

- (6) Column six gives the person's father's first name.
- (7) Column seven lists the father's middle name. When the first column is blank and there is a name in the seventh column, this means we know his middle name but not his first name.
- (8) Column eight is a further identification of the father. The first part of this is a set of initials within parentheses. These are the initials of the father's father. This is necessary due to the large number of people with the same name. The second part of the identification (or ID) is a set of two numbers. This is the last two digits of the year in which the father was born. For instance, if the person's father's name is Gordon and Gordon's ID is listed as (WE)91, this means that you should look for a Gordon whose father's initials are W. E. Turnage and that Gordon was born in 1891.
