Rufus and Norma bought a small farm in Miller County. They participated in a national program to raise chickens there during the war. They began with several thousand chicks.

When Rufus entered the Army during World War II, they lost the farm.

Rufus entered the Army at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Georgia. He went through basic training at Camp Blanding, Florida (south of Jacksonville). While Rufus was stationed there, Norma and Robert rented an apartment in Jacksonville so they could visit Rufus on weekends.

Rufus left for Europe from Norfolk, Virginia. He was killed in action about one month after landing at Anzio, Italy.

Norma worked as a nurse's aide at Florida State Hospital in Chattahoochee, Florida for some time during the 1940's. She married Ralph H. Parrish while working there. Her son, Robert Earl, lived with her father, Gordon Turnage while she worked at the hospital.

After marriage to Ralph, Norma lived for several months with her father, on the Chason Plantation, six miles southwest of Bainbridge, Ga. In 1948, they moved to Camilla, Ga. where they lived in a downtown hotel for several months until they rented a two-room apartment. Later, they moved to the Sapp House on the Hawthorne Trail and rented an apartment there from James McCarty.

They later moved uptown to a brick apartment house until Norma got pregnant with Janet.

The family moved back to Gordon Turnage's near Bainbridge in 1951. Janet was born in the old Riverside Hospital (next to the Flint River and the former Bainbridge State Park) on 17 Dec., 1951. The following summer, they moved to the house where Robert Earl had been born on the John Wesley Woodham Farm four miles east of Iron City, Georgia. They lived there for one year and then moved to a house on Friendship Avenue in Donalsonville. They lived there for about 2½ years

In 1955, they moved to Gandy Hill, several miles south of Bainbridge on U.S. Highway 27. This is where they were living when Donnie Ray was born (At the old Bainbridge Hospital, where the Post Office was later built).

They lived there until 1956, when they moved back to Friendship Avenue in Donalsonville. They lived in Donalsonville until 1957, when they moved to a house next to Whigham Dairy in northeast Bainbridge.

They eventually moved to Lamar Street and rented a home from Mrs. Agnes Poitevint. They later bought the home across the street at 404 Lamar Street, where Norma lived until 1969.

Ralph worked his entire life with the Georgia Highway Department (later part of the Department of Transportation) with the exception of about one year in Camilla, when he sold insurance. He was transferred from Bainbridge to Columbus, Ga. during the late 1960's. Norma was unable to keep up the payments on her home and support the children by herself, so in 1969, she sold the home at 404 Lamar St. and moved to Columbus.

They rented homes at three different locations in east Columbus until they bought a home at 1130 Celia Drive in 197 .
