5. How did your parents, grandparents and other relatives happen to meet and marry? Are there family stories about lost love, jilted brides, unusual courtships, arranged marriages, elopements and runaway lovers?

6. Have any particular historical events affected your family? How about the Great Depression, Civil War, World War I, World War II, Korea, or Vietnam?

7. Are there any stories about relatives who made or lost great fortunes? Can the stories be substantiated?

8. What holidays have always been important in the family—national, religious or family? Does the family celebrate holidays in any unusual way? Who started the custom? Why?

9. Does the family ever hold reunions? How often? When? Where? Who is invited? Who comes? Does someone keep a record of these reunions? Who? Are photographs taken at each reunion? By whom?

10. Do you know of any other people who became part of your household? When? Why? What were they called—aunt, uncle, cousin?

11. Is there a family cemetery or burial plot? Who is buried there? Who made the decision to use that area?

12. Does the family have any special heirlooms? How were they acquired and by whom? What sort of things are they? Are there any stories connected with them? Who has these things now?

13. Do you have any photo albums, scrapbooks, slides or home movies? Who created them? Whose pictures are shown? Who keeps them up to date? Are they available for you to look at?

That gives you a pretty fair idea of the direction an interview with one of your relatives should take. Remember that in discussing all the points mentioned here, you're covering a lot of ground. Any one of those 13 sets of questions could take the better part of an afternoon—so don't be impatient, expect to go back again. And if your interview manners and mannerisms follow the recommendations you've just read, I'm certain your return visit will be most welcome.

BREAKDOWN OF FAMILY NAMES BY STATE

When you've exhausted all your "local" sources for information about your family heritage, you may find yourself wanting to travel to other areas where your ancestors lived. This numerical breakdown of your family members by state will be especially useful in suggesting places where your trips will be most productive. Chances are, the most data about your relatives will be located where most of your family members are living.

Not only can you use the list to plan actual visits, but the list is a good guide to use when you begin writing to relatives to find out if and where they fit in your own personal heritage.

Remember, when you begin to look through the Reference Directory of Family Names that follows, names of your family members are listed by state in ZIP Code sequence—running in numerical sequence from the lowest ZIP Codes to the highest.

But don't waste time using the Reference Directory indiscriminately. As you begin to develop your local sources of information, you'll begin to get rather good ideas about where your ancestors lived at one time, where they might have moved, and if the entire family went to one place or if some family members went off in other directions. With this background information as a guide, chances are, you'll be able to pinpoint the precise areas that should be explored.

Incidentally, as you follow up your heritage with many of the
